What the labels mean

Desirability
Our score out of 100 for how well this university matches what you told us matters. Not your chance of getting in.

Grades vs entry bar
Our label: your grades compared with the grades this university asks for. Not published means it doesn't set any.

Admit rate
The university's own figure: the share of applicants it accepted that year. Not your personal chance.

Approx total (RM)
Tuition plus living costs for the whole degree, in ringgit, before scholarships.

Glossary

The shorthand used in this list, in plain words.

ED
Early Decision — apply early and, if admitted, you are bound to enrol and withdraw your other applications. Binding, so you cannot weigh aid offers from other universities first.

EA
Early Action — apply early for an earlier decision; non-binding, so you stay free to compare offers and decline.

RD
Regular Decision — the standard round with the normal (later) deadline; non-binding.

SCEA
Single-Choice Early Action — a restrictive early option: non-binding, but you may not apply early to most other private universities at the same time.

REA
Restrictive Early Action — like SCEA: non-binding early action that bars you from applying early to other private schools.

cost of attendance
The university's official all-in yearly price — tuition plus housing, food, fees, books and personal expenses. This is the number financial aid is measured against, not the tuition figure alone.

demonstrated need
Your cost of attendance minus what the university calculates your family can pay. "Meets 100% of need" means it covers that gap — it does not automatically mean you pay nothing.

need-blind
The university decides admission without looking at whether you asked for financial aid — requesting aid can't hurt your chances.

need-aware
Your ability to pay can factor into the admission decision — you still request aid, but it is a consideration.

CSS Profile
The College Board's detailed financial-aid application most US universities use to assess your need (separate from the FAFSA). Opens 1 October.

IDOC
College Board's Institutional Documentation Service — where you upload your parents' tax/income documents for financial aid.

PFAA
Princeton Financial Aid Application — Princeton's own free aid form, filed in its applicant portal. Princeton uses it instead of the CSS Profile.

ISAFA
International Student Application for Financial Assistance — Stanford's alternative aid form if you can't pay the CSS Profile fee.

Common App
The Common Application — one online form plus one main essay you reuse across many US universities.

self-report
You type your own test scores into the application; you only pay to send official scores once you enrol.

School Report
A form (plus a letter) your school counsellor submits about you and your school.

SAT
A standardised US university-entrance exam; many US universities require the SAT or the ACT.

ACT
A standardised US university-entrance exam; an accepted alternative to the SAT.

IELTS
International English Language Testing System — an English-proficiency test. Some universities waive it if enough of your schooling was taught in English, or accept an English grade (such as SPM 1119 or IGCSE English) instead. Each sets its own rule.

TOEFL
Test of English as a Foreign Language — an English-proficiency test; an alternative to IELTS.

PTE Academic
Pearson Test of English Academic — a computer-marked English-proficiency test; another accepted alternative to IELTS/TOEFL.

ESAT
Engineering and Science Admissions Test — an admissions test some UK engineering and science courses require.

CSC
China Scholarship Council scholarship — the main full-ride government scholarship for international students in China.

CGS
Chinese Government Scholarship — the award the CSC administers; the full version covers tuition, campus accommodation, a monthly stipend and medical insurance.

MOE Tuition Grant
Singapore's Ministry of Education subsidy that cuts tuition sharply in exchange for a 3-year work bond after graduation.

ABET
The US accreditation board for engineering and technology degrees. An ABET-accredited degree is recognised internationally and eases professional registration back home.

Washington Accord
An international agreement that mutually recognises engineering degrees between member countries (the US, UK, Australia and Malaysia all belong), so an accredited degree carries over.

BEM
Board of Engineers Malaysia — the body you register with to practise as an engineer in Malaysia; it recognises accredited degrees via the Washington Accord.

CEEAA
China Engineering Education Accreditation Association — China's engineering accreditation body and its Washington Accord signatory since 2016; a CEEAA-accredited Chinese degree carries over to BEM.

MQA
Malaysian Qualifications Agency — the Malaysian body that recognises foreign qualifications; its register lists which foreign degrees it recognises.

Common Data Set
A standardised set of admissions and enrolment statistics each US university publishes, including its admit rate and the profile of the students it admitted.

MAE
Mechanical & Aerospace Engineering — a common name for the university department or school that houses mechanical engineering degrees.

ECE
Electrical & Computer Engineering — a common name for the university department covering electrical engineering and computer hardware.

B.S.E.
Bachelor of Science in Engineering — Princeton's four-year engineering degree track, distinct from its liberal-arts A.B. track.

CIP code
Classification of Instructional Programs code — the US government's subject code printed on your I-20. Whether yours is on the STEM list is what decides if you get the 24-month STEM OPT extension.

QS
QS World University Rankings — one of the three global university league tables, published annually by Quacquarelli Symonds. Weighted heavily toward academic and employer reputation surveys.

GPA

Grade Point Average — the US 0-4.0 running average of your course grades. Scholarships and internal programmes often set a GPA floor such as 3.0.

SPM

Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia — the Malaysian national exam taken at the end of Form 5, before A-Levels or a foundation year.

CEng

Chartered Engineer — the UK's full professional-engineer status; it usually needs an accredited MEng (or a BEng plus further learning) and maps to the Washington Accord, so it's the route Malaysia's BEM recognises for Ir. registration.

UCAS

The UK's central undergraduate application service — one form to apply to up to five UK universities, with a mid-January equal-consideration deadline.

Graduate Route

The UK's post-study work visa — lets graduates stay and work after their degree (18 months for bachelor's/master's applying from 1 January 2027).

SEAS

Harvard's John A. Paulson School of Engineering and Applied Sciences — the school that houses every engineering and computer science concentration.

EAB

Engineering Accreditation Board — Singapore's engineering accreditor. Its degrees carry the Washington Accord, so they map onto Malaysia's BEM route.

IES

Institution of Engineers, Singapore — the professional body behind EAB accreditation.
